The Teaching & Learning (T&L) Department offers two master’s degree programs: the Master's of Education (M.Ed.) and the Master's of Science (M.S.). Within each master’s program, emphases (areas of study) have been designed to meet the students’ professional goals and/or interests. Detailed information regarding the emphases can be found in the Teaching & Learning website, by visiting <http://tl.unlv.edu/masters>.

Students seeking a M.Ed. or M.S. generally hold a bachelor's degree in education and have a teaching license within the K-12 range. Students with a bachelor's degree in a non-education field are eligible for the Graduate Licensure Program (GLP) in elementary or secondary education, offered only as a M.Ed., the Postsecondary TESL program of study, available as an M.Ed. or M.S., or other emphasis areas if approved by faculty.

For additional information regarding the GLP application process, contact the Professional Development Office, Graduate Licensure Division, in CEB 367A, 895-1536. Other programs: Initial Licensure Program (ILP), 895-1536; Doctoral Programs, 895-1308.

The M.Ed. requires a minimum of 37 semester hours of study. Students in the M.Ed. program take a one credit culminating experience for the degree. M.Ed. students must maintain a grade point average (GPA) of 3.00 or higher during their program of study.

The M.S. requires a minimum of 39 semester hours of study. Students in the M.S. program complete a six semester hour thesis and oral defense as the culminating activity for the degree. M.S. students must maintain a grade point average (GPA) of 3.00 or higher during their program of study.

Admissions Requirements for M.Ed. and M.S.
In addition to meeting the admission requirements of the Graduate College, applicants must also meet Department of T&L requirements:

1. Complete a minimum of 18 semester hours of coursework in professional education taken at either the undergraduate or post-baccalaureate level. This requirement does not apply to students in the Graduate Licensure Program, Post-Secondary TESL, or other emphasis areas if approved by faculty.
2. Write a one-to-two page statement of your professional goals and email it to the T&L Department through <tlgrad@unlv.nevada.edu>. Include in your statement your intended area of emphasis and the names and telephone numbers of two professional references.

Applications are processed when all materials required by both the Graduate College and T&L Department have been received. The materials are then forwarded to the Graduate Coordinator who evaluates the applicant's credentials and recommends either: 1) full or provisional admission to the program, depending on the strength of the applicant’s academic credentials, or 2) denial. Students are admitted to the T&L Department twice each year.

ADMISSION DEADLINES ARE FEBRUARY 15 FOR THE FALL SEMESTER & SEPTEMBER 30 FOR THE SPRING SEMESTER.
